ALEXANDRIA FANS GREET GRIFFITH

Manager of Washington Baseball Team Given Great Ovation.

MAYOR TOASTMASTER.

Newspaper Men of Washington Talk As Well as They Write—Large Gathering at Banquet.

Alexandria has rarely had a more delighful entertainment than the one given last night by the Cardinal Athletic Club in honor of Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington Baseball team. From the hour of Mr. Griffith's arrival in Alexandria until he left the city the best of fellowship prevailed and Mr. Griffith, who has been banqueted and toasted in the principal cites of the United States, declared that he had never spent a more enjoyable evening.

The manager of the Washington team accompanied by a number of the most notable sporting writers in America, arrived in Alexandria shortly before eight o'clock. He was met at the corner of King and Royal streets by a large delegation of the Cardinals, who with red lights in their hands, illuminated his path to the Hotel Rammel where the banquet was given. Mr. Griffith spent a pleasant hour in the hotel parlors meeting the members of the club and their guests, who were eager to greet the man who had so successfully piloted the Washington team to the second place in the American league.

SYLVESTER A. BREEN.
President of the Cardinals.

At nine o'clock the banquet was commenced and for more than an hour the guests of the evening enjoyed the delightful repast which Messrs. Whitestone and Rammel had prepared. The number of the banqueters was so large that all three dining rooms of the Rammel were used, almost 200 persons being seated at the various tables. In addition a large number of persons who were unable to secure seats at the banquet came in to hear the speeches.

Thomas A. Fisher, Mayor of Alexandria, an enthusiastic fan, presided and much of the success of the evening was due to the clever manner in which he introduced the speakers.

In his opening remarks Mayor Fisher paid a tribute to Mr. Griffith who he said had been one of those who had not only made, but played and helped to elevate the National game. He said that it was by the efforts of men like him that baseball had been placed on such a high plane that it was now patronized by all from the President of the United States to the school boy. Mr. Griffith he said, had made a record that no other team could ever hope to excel, when he led the National n seventeen straight victories before the winning streak was broken.

When the guests of honor was introduced he was cheered time after time. His speech made a profound hit with the gathering. After thanking the members of the Cardinals for their invitation and expressing his appreciation of the support that Alexandria had extended to the Nationals he gave a lucid explanaton of the reason why his team had gone from a tail-ender to the second place. There were two reasons for this, one was luck which largely entered into all baseball matters and the other was the plan evolved by him of cutting out old players and replacing them by youngsters who had ambition. Luck entered into the proposition largely when he picked up such players as Shanks, Foster, Moeller and Gandil.

CLARKE GRIFFITH

Mr. Griffith stated that he had invested all his savings in the Washington Club and for the first time in his life was given a free rein to handle a team according to his own ideas. He stated that he was not satisfied that Washington is as yet a championship club but that he was confident with the same sort of luck he had last year his club would not finish any lower in the percentage column than it did in 1912.

Joe S. Jackson, sporting editor of the Washington Post, and one of the best known baseball writers in the business, was the next speaker and he was applauded to the echo when he announced that after a conference with Manager Griffith the Washington team would play the Cardinals on March 31st and would give the latter one half of the receipts of the game. He furthermore said that all school children in Alexandria would be admitted free.

William Peet, sporting editor of the Washington Herald, whose stories are eagerly read by the Alexandria fans, made a graceful speech in acknowledgment of the hearty welcome that he received. He said that there was only one feature missing to make the banquet even more delightful and that was the presence of Frank McLearen, whose death, he said, was a great loss to those who frequented the Florida Avenue Park. At the conclusion of his remarks, a silent toast was drunk to the memory of Mr. McLearen.

Louis A. Dougher, better known as the Senator, the clever writer for the Washington Times, said that he had never known how great a man Griffith really was, until he had heard the eulogies pronounced by the other speakers. He denied that Mr. Griffith was responsible for the success of the Washington team but gave the real cerdit to the newspaper men of Washington who told Griffith what to do.

A feature of the evening was the speech of J. Fred Birrell whose humorous hits at the expense of the other speakers brought much applause.

Other speakers of the evening included William Betts, the well-known umpire, Harvey Crump, manager of the Cardinals. M. T. Dwyer, Dr. E. A. Gorman and Robert S. Barrett.

President Sylvester A. Breen, to whom credit is due for the success of the affair remained in the background but his work will not be forgotten by the members of the club over which he presides or their guests.

A delightful feature of the evening was the music rendered by M. J. Haines and Gordon Phillips, and the Alexandria Ideal Music Club.

Vote Lack of Confidence.

Berlin, Jan. 30.—By a division of 218 to 97, the Reichstag today voted a lack of confidence in the government. The resolution declared that the policy of Chancellor Van Bethmann-Hellweg, in opposing the appropriation of money for the Germanizing of Eastern Prussia and the dispossession of the Poles there in the interest of the German settlers did not meet with the approval of the Reichstag. The vote was a decided slap at the chancellor and it is interpreted as a manoeuvre on the part of the Catholic centurists to get revenge for Von Bethmann-Hellweg's stand against the Jesuits.

PERISH IN FIRE IN A CHICAGO HOTEL

Victims Three Men and a Woman, Trapped in Their Beds.

CIGARETTE THE CAUSE

Guests Jump From Fourth Story Windows—Proprietor of Hostelry Runs From Room to Room.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Three men and a woman were burned today three men were seriously injured, one probably fatally and several more suffered minor injuries in a fire that broke out in the Marco Hotel here early today. The victims were trapped in their beds by flames and smoke and never got out of their rooms. Of the injured several were hurt by jumping from windows on the third and fourth floors. Many others were trampled on and bruised in the rush to escape

The fire is believed to have been caused by a cigarette thrown into a waste paper basket into a room on the fourth floor, where a party of men were playing cards.

The dead:

James D O'Hara, 30, New Haven, Conn.
E. Benjamin, 40, Chicago.
James Love, 35, Oak Park, Ill.
Miss Pearl Clark, Chicago.

The injured:

Frank Payer, 27, Chicago.
Thomas Honan, Chicago.
James Corcoran, Chicago.

Two of the dead are believed to have suffocated while they lay asleep. Others were forced to jump from the top floor of the four-story building. All the guests occupying room on the fourth floor were injured, dense clouds of smoke making it impossible for them to escape.

Thirty guests were asleep in the hotel when the fire was discovered on the top floor by Albert C. Marco, one of the proprietors. The flames had already gained considerable headway.

Marco ran through the building arousing occupants of the rooms and then turned in an alarm. By the time the firemen arrved the flames had spread through the building and the corridors were choked with smoke.

Occupants of rooms on the second floor ran in panic through the corridors and fought their way down a narrow fire escape. In the rush several were thrown down and trampled on, suffering minor injuries.

Firemen hurried through building to arouse those still asleep. Unable to make their way to the two upper floors by means of the stairway which were already in flames, they used their axes to batter exits. Ladders were strung up the sides of the building and men and women were carried down in the arms of the firemen.

After it was thought all had been rescued from the building, a man later learned to be Frank Payer (correct), was seen standing in window of one of the third story rooms. Firemen ran up the ladder to rescue him, But before they reached him he jumped.

He has small chance of recovery.

Steever, to the War Department this morning. Salazar with several hundred troops are camped around Juarez, and General Steever expects an immediate attack. SICKLES IS NO MARTYR.

New York Atorney General Objects to "Misdirected Sympathy."

The fact that General Daniel E. Sickles was a soldier, should not deter New York State in his efforts to collect the $23,476 unaccounted for by the gneral as chairman of the New York monument commission. This is the view advanced by Attorney General Carmody in a letter to Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, of Gainesville, Ga., widow of the Confederate general.

In a telegram to Attorney General Carmody, Mrs. Longstreet offered to raise $23,476 from "the ragged and maimed followers of Lee."

Attorney General Carmody, among other things said:

"Your sympathetic and patriotic expressions do justice to your heart, but they do violence to the facts in this case. General Sickles is being prosecuted by the State of New York for converting to his own use the sum of $23,476. He was given his own time to repay this amount, and that time was extended at his suggestion, without anw desire to embarass him.

This was history must not be used as a cloak or protection for the commission of crime and it is nothing less than misdirected sympathy to undertake to so confuse the questions involved as to make an ordinary prosecution for a crime seem like persecution, and to elevate as a martyr a person who confesses his dereliction."

VISITS NORFOLK TERMINAL.

Welsh Coal Exporter on Tour of Inspection.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—D. A. Thomas, Walsh, coal exporter, whose arrival in New York recently was prefaced by the announcement that he contemplated the export of coal from West Virginia fields to South America through this port was here yesterday.

In company with a party of railroad officials Mr. Thomas inspected the terminals of the Virginian, the Norfolk and Western, and Chesapeake and Ohio railways, with a view to ascertaining their facilities for handling coal.

English Suffragettes.

London, Jan. 30.—The militants carried on their self-styled "guerrilla warfare" today, but apparently confined themeselves to letterbox attacks.

From every quarter of London came complaints that letterboxes were being tampered with, and in some instances the suffragete crusaaders used an acid that caused the contents of the boxes to ignite.

"Bashibasoukeses" is the latest slang term applied to the militants.

Dundee, Jan. 30.—Suffragettes made a desperate attempt today to break up a meeting addressed by Premier Asquith. The mayor had just introduced Asquith to the audience and was extending "the freedom of the city" to the premier when a band of militants stormed the hall.

"Traitor" and "coward" yelled the womenas they charged down the aisles of the hall, bu they were intercepted by police and men in the audience before they reached the rostrum. Many of the women were roughly handled and forcibly ejected form the hall.

One suffragette climbed over his balcony rail and was about to jump down on the heads of those below, when a man caught her and dragged her back.

The Turkish Note.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—The Turkish note, with alterations completed, was returned to the Austrian embassy after only a few minutes delay and again presented to the ambassador, to be given by him to all the ambassadors. It was said that the draft of the altered note was practically the same as the original, there being no substantial change in Turkey's proposal. It was explained that the alterations were nothing more than corrections of mistakes incident to translating the note from Turkish into French.

Devoted Profits to Christianity.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 30.—H. Z. Duke, Dallas, Texas, owner of twenty one nickel stores in the West today announced that henceforth the profits will be devoted to Christianity. The stores have earned from $40,000 to $50,000 annually for many years. This money will now be used in supporting missionaries, paying salaries of ministers and comforting the needy.

TURKEY PRESENTS REPLY TO THE NOTE

Proposes to Give up Part of Adrianople to the Balkan Allies.

TO HOLD HOLY PLACES.

Refuses to Surrender Aegean Islands, But Suggests Government be Left to The Powers.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—The formal reply of Turkey to the joint note of the Great Powers was presented to the foreign ambassador here today. The porte proposes to give up the allies part of Adrianople, Turkey to retain that portion of the town as the "Holy City," where the moslem shrines are situated.

The note also declines to surrender the Aegean Islands but proposes that the status and government of the islands be left to the powers. It also is suggested that the disposition of the 23,000 square miles of conquered territory in European Turkey be left to the powers.

The formal reply of Turkey to the great powers was dictated by Enver Bey and his adviseres, and was delivered today by Mahmud Shefket Pasha, the Young Turk Grand Viser. It was presented to the Autria-Hungary ambassador, and he at once communicated it to all the other ambassadors.

They telegraphed its provison to their governments, and in a matter of minutes, all Europe knew that the Turks had offered concessions and that peace was again a possibility.

It is believed here that the offer of Turkey to give all but the shrines of Adrianople is the basis on which peace eventually will be made. The gratest obstacles in the way of the Kaimil Pasha cabinet's efforts to make peace was the protest of the whole Ottoman empire was aganist delivering the Holy City to Christians. The Moslems could not bring themselves to approve that surrender. The proposal to cede to the allies the business and residential portions of Adrianople, while Turkey retains those portions, where the Moslem shrnes are built "cuts the Gordian knot" and allows Turkey to keep her Holy City, so far as religious Adrianople is concerned, while, if the propositon be accepted, the Bulgarians will get that part of Adrianople for which they have fought.

Diplomats here thought that such a comprimise in regard to the Aegean Islands could be brought about. The note of Turkey to the Powers declines to give up the islands but it is believed that Turkey will we willing to give up some of the islands, if allowed to retain those lying commandingly close to the Dardanelles and the Asia Minor coast.

The porte agreed to dismantel the Adrianople fortifications, remove the Ottoman garrison, and retain nothing but the religious hold on the city.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—It was semi-officialy stated that the Porte later withdrew the Turkish reply to the Powers, for alterations. The messenger from Mahmud Shefket Pasha, grand viser, was seen to linger on the threshold of the Austrian Embassay, and it was said that he was ordered to take back the note, after he had placed it in the hands of the ambassador.

Vienna, Jan. 30.—A special dispatch from Constantinople today said that the young Turks have issued a statement to the effect that Turkey will not consent to give up the Moslem shrines of Adrianople and the Aegean islands commanding the Turkish coast. This was taken to mean that the Ottoman reply today to the joint note of the great powers was in the nature of an ultimatum, and no further concessions could be expected.

The public statement of the Enver Bey cabinet was in the nature of an appeal to the nation. The Turks are urged to form a national defense committee. The duty of all Ottomans is declared to be to defend the last ditch the faith and the national honor. Failure to do this, said the statement, would forever damn the Turks.

WILL TAKE VOTE ON HOME RULE TONIGHT

Foregone Conclusion That The Lords Will Reject The Measure.

ACTION IS IMPOTENT.

Costly Contested Election Between Nationalists and Unionists Today in Londonberry.

London, Jan. 20.—Vote on the Home rule bill, passed by the House of Commons, was expected in the House of Lords late tonight, when the last of the speakers will have finished their debates.

After a recess of one day, speaking on the measure was resumed this afternoon as it was foregone conclusion that the Lords would defeat the measure, and as it was equally certain that their rejection would be impotent to prevent the enactment of home rule, there was not much of a crowd to hear the debate.

Londonderry, Ireland, Jan. 30.—With Home Rule for Ireland, the paramount issue in British politics, pending at Westminister the most interesting and closely contested bi-election ever held here, is being fought out today.

The balloting will decide the rival claims of the control of the province of Ulster made by the Nationalists (for home rule) and the unionists (against home rule).

Although Ulster is generally spoken of as against home rule the unionists hold only 17 of its parliament seats while the nationalists hold sixteen. The unionists controlled seventeen constituencies though they have had but sixteen members since the recent death of the Duke of Abercorn. His son, the marquis of Hamilton, was the member for Londonderry, but he was compelled to succeed to the dukedom, which took him out of the commons and into a seat in the House of Lords.

The Nationalists have been making desperate efforts to capture this seat, which would give Ulster a home rule majority, and when the voting began today, it appeared that they had excellent chances for success.

David C. Hogg, the nationalists candidate, today is a strong home rule advocate and a Protestant. He hoped to get some of the anti-Catholic votes and was sure of all the Catholic home rule people. Col. H. A. Peckenham is the unionist candidate.

THE LATE MRS. SCOTT

Deceased Was an Octogenarian and a Widow of Three Score Years

The death of Mrs. R. M. Scott which has already been stated in the Gazette, removes from Fairfax county one of the oldest and most prominent inhabitants. She had spent all the days of her married life and widowhood at the family seat of Bush Hill which was so well known as a home of generous hospitality to the older residents of Alexandria. She was born in the city of Washington about 87 years ago and was a sister of Dr. Frank Gunnell, surgeon of the U. S. Army who survives her, and also of Dr. James Gunnel who died a few years ago. Her husband died early in her married life. She was a woman of high character and was an earnest communicant of Chriset Church in this city during the old days, but afterwards transferred her membership to Olivet Chapel on her estate which is now connected with old Pohick Church. Her children were Mr. Frank Scott who died about twenty years ago, Mrs. Bernard H. Johnston, of Evergreen, Fairfax county, and afterwards a resident of Washington, Miss Connie Scott also deceased, and Mr. R. M. Scott of Bush Hill who alone survives her. In her latter days she was afflicted with deafness which cut her off from the fuller communication with the friends she so much enjoyed.

The funeral services took place at Bush Hill this morning and were conducted by the Rev. S. A. Wallis, of the Theological Seminary, near this city, her former rector. The interment was at Ivy Hill to which the remains of all departed members of her family were removed from the family burying ground at Bush Hill some years ago.

IMPROVEMENTS.

"AT THE UNION STATION."

Amusing situations are often seen, some of which will be presented by the Young Men's Club of Christ Church tomorow evening in the Parish Hall of Christ Church at 8 o'clock. As it is for the benefit of the Sunday school, those attending, besides helping a good cause, will enjoy a hearty laugh, which is well worth the price of admission.

JURY THANKS OFFICIALS

Fredericksburg Panel Expresses Regret that Alexandria Was Unjustly Criticized

Alexandria, which has recently received some severe criticism from newspapers in varous parts of the state because of the failure of the jury from Fredericksburg which was brought here to try Lewis Hooff, former general manager of the Mercantile Railway and Building Loan Association to receive pay for their services and traveling expenses has been vindicated by the jurors themselves.

In a signed statement which was received here today the entire panel repudiates any criticism that has been attributed to them and expresses their warmest thanks to the judge of the court and other officers for the kind treatment which was shown them while they were in Alexandria.

As stated above the members of the jury have not received their money and there is very little likelihood of their doing so for several months to come. But Alexandria is not to blame as the city has nothing to do with the expenses of conducting criminal trials, except to pay its proportion of the salary of the judge of the Corporation Court, all other expenses being borne b ythe state of Virginia.

The State Treasury is far from being bankrupt nad the expenses of the Fredericksburg men would ordinnarily be paid but under instructions from C. Lee Moore, state auditor, who has made many inovatons in the handling of the state funds, the warrants have not been paid.

The communication is as follows:

We, the undersigned composing the jury called to serve in the case of the Commonwealth of Virginia against Hooff deem it our duty to return thanks to the Judge of the Corporation Court of Alexandria and all other court officials, for the very kind and courteous treatment we received at their hands. The statement that our jury certificates for services rendered in that case were not promptly paid by the City of Alexandria is absolutely erroneous—for the very best reason namely: that these ceritficates were not due or payable by the city of Alexandria but by the State of Virginia, and the State—not the city was responsible for their payment, and we regret deeply the article that appeared in the Daily Journal of our city.

Sanitary Beds and Bedding

Metal Beds have now almost entirely supplanted the wooden. The reasons for this are obvious and sensible. Metal Beds can be used with any nd presenting a neat and effective furnishings, harmonizing perfectly a appearance. They are strictly sanitary, easily kept clean, and are no more expensive than the wooden.

Beds and Bedding should be selected with care, and we say this not merely because all shown here are, but because health, rest, and comfort to a great degree are dependent upon proper bedding. We have provided for the specific needs of all, and offer substantial values throughout.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

BLAMES CAPT. GILBERT.

Captain and Crew of the Indrakuala. Commended.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—Holding Captan Gilbert, the master of the steamer Julia Luckenbach, responsible the local steamboat inspectors, Tapley and Bray, in their decision which, was finished yesterday, not only exonerated the master and pilot of the British steamship Indrakuala from all blame, but highly recommended the master and crew for their conduct at the time of the collision between the two vessels in Chesapeake Bay, which resulted in the sinking of the Julia Luckenbach and the drowning of 16 people on the morning of January 3, 1913.

The testimony in the case covered 203 typewritten sheets, together with many letters and telegrams and the inspectors consumed two weeks in hearing it. The decision was given out this morning and follows in full:

"After a careful review of the testimony taken in the investigation of the collision between the British steamship Indrakuala and the American steamship Julia Luckenbach, which occurred in Chesapeake Bay on January 3, 1913, south of Tangier Lump Gas Buoy, causing the sinking of the steamship Julia Luckenbach and the loss of 16 lives, we find as follows:

"First—At the time of the collision there was a dense fog and a strong breeze from about south southwest.

"Second—The British steamship Indrakuala was beng navigated with caution, with due regard to existing conditions, and at the time of the collision had little if any headway.

"Third—The steamship Julia Luckenbach was being navigated without complying with Article 16 of the pilot rules for certain inland waters of the Atlantic and Pacific Coast, and of the Gulf of Mexico, in that when hearing forward of her beam a fog signal from another vessel she failed to stop her engines and navigate with caution, but continued at full speed, assuming that the fog signals were from the setamship Essex, which had previously overtaken and passed her, and which signals, we believe from the evidence, came from the Indrakuala.

we. m.ixr BpU hr hrtaohr hr hr hrd

"Fourth—The course of the Julia Luckenbach was changed after entering the fog and a few minutes before the collision from north, one-quarter east to northwest, one-quarter north, which, from the testimony, was done in order to get over into shoal water to anchor, and out of the course of vessels bound up and down the bay. This maneuver made her the crossing vessel, as the Indrakuala was on the regular and proper course for vessels bound down.

"Fifth.—We believe that the collision was due to the facts set forth above in regard to the navigation of the steamship Julia Luckenbach, and the master and pilot of the steamship Indrakuala are exonerated from all blame.

"Sixth—The evidence further shows that after the collision the master, officers and crew of the steamship Indrakuala did all that was in their power to rescue the crew of the Julia Luckenbach, and did succeed in saving six men, one of whom afterward died from exposure. These men were picked up from the wreckage, which drifted with the wind and tide, which was so strong that the lifeboats sent out by the Indnakuala, though well manned, were unable to pull to windward. Had the Danish ship Pennsylvania not come along at that time and been signalled by the master of the Indrakuala to proceed to the wreck, those clinging to the masts, which were only showing 15 or 20 feet above water, would undoubtedly have been lost, as the Indrakuala was down by the head and could not maneuver back to the wreck, but, with the wheel hard aport and wind on the port quarter, which had increased to a moderate gale, worked her way across to the western shore and came to anchor in about four and a half fathoms of water.

"The officers and crew of the British steamship Indrakuala, having acted with credit to themselves and honor to their country, should receive our highest commendation, which is hereby given. We also feel that the severe criticism by the press of the actions of officers and crew of the Indrakuala, in connection with rescuing the crew of the Julia Luckenbach, was unjust and unmerited, and should have been withheld until the case was duly and properly presented.

OFFICER BARNETT KILLED.

Foe of Moonshiners Found Dead on Railroad Track.

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 30.—The body of Special Officer C. Barnett was found Tuesday night on the Norfolk and Western Railway track one and a half miles south of Denniston Junction, Halifax county. The head was crushed and both arms and feet were severed by the train. His watch and a small amount of money were gone. Officer Barnett, who formerly acted as deputy sheriff, but lately became special officer in the southern portion of Halifax county, where there are known to be moonshine stills, went to Virginia Tuesday to serve papers, returning to Denniston in the afternoon with Deputy Sheriff Roddin and a prisoner

About 6:30 in the evening Barnett left Denniston going alone in the direction of what is known as one of the most lawless portions of the county and where he had been particularly active in pursuit of those engaged in illicit distilling His body was next found in a railway cut on a sharp curve.

INDORSES SAUNDERS.

Want Him Appointed on Ways and Means Committee.

The Virginia delegation in the House has met in caucus and formally indorsed Representative E. W. Saunders, of the Fifth District, for a place on the Ways and Means Committee of the House in the Sixty-third Congress.

This meeting has been planned for some time, as it has been the intention of Judge Saunder's colleagues to elevate him to the Ways and Means place at the beginning of the extra session of Congress, which will begin in March.

Judge Saunders is already a member of the Committee on Appropriations, which in many respects outranks all other committees of the House, unless it is that on Ways and Means. His elevation to the latter committee will leave a place vacant on appropriations, which may go to one of the other members of the Virginia delegation.

The matter as agreed upon will be formally presented to Chairman Underwood at once, and he will be asked, in the name of the Virginia delegation, to place Judge Saunders on the Ways and Means Committee.

In this connection it is understood that efforts are also being made by the friends of former Governor Montague and Judge Watson, who will enter the House in March, to have them given good committee assignments, although just what they will get is not yet known.

With chairmanships of half a dozen important committees of the House, and with both Senators Martin and Swanson holding important places in the Senate Virginia is in excellent condition so far as Congressmen are concerned.

SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL.

Son of Surveyor Hubbard is Severely Dealt With.

Stuart, Va., Jan. 30.—A very unfortunate affair in which young Lloyd Hubbard, son of County Surveyor Geo. D. Hubbard, of Stuart, Route 1, figures as principal, was brought to a close here a few days ago in the Justice Court presided over by Dr. W. D. Via, by a sentence imposing upon the youth an indefinite term in the State Reform School an an incorrigible.

Young Hubbard was a student in the high schol here until Christmas. But it seems that he had become disobedient and insolent, which caused trouble betwen himseilf and his father and on Sunday afternoon before the Stuart school opened on Monday for the new year, he left home saying he was coming to Stuart to be ready for school the next morning. Instead of doing this, however, he sepen t the night in the neighborhood and boarded the train at Martin's Siding on Monday morning with Miss Fannie Hazlewood, wth the intention, it seems, of running away to be married. They went on to Martinsville and then to Roanoke, and it was reported here that they had run away and been married. Mr. Hubbard soon found out that his son was in Roanoke and went at once to that city.

Virginian Fails to Borrow $3,000.

Washington, Jan. 30.—"Please lend me $3,000," was the modest request received by the United States Treasury in a letter from a man of Scottsburg, Va., who was willing to pledge his lands and all as security. "I won't give you any trouble in getting it back at the proper time," he added. The Treasury vaults did not swing open, however.

CONFERENCE CLOSES.

New Officers of Charities and Corrections Chosen.

Danville, Va., Jan. 30.—The State Conference on Charities and Corrections closed its three days' sessions here Tuesday evening after what is considered a most beneficial and instructive convention.

The first discourse of the night session was one upon "Colored Waifs," delivered by Thomas Walker, a negro of Gloucester, which was followed by an interesting illusrtated address on "The Delinquent on the Prison Farm," by W. H. Whitaker, Superintendent of Columbia District Farm. Every phase of the work was shown through the stereopticon.

The Rev. W. A. Cooper, of Lynchburg, was elected president; Miss Louise F. Price, of Richmond, secretary and treasurer; Dr. Douglas Freeman, retiring president, was elected chairman of the executive committee; among the other members were Hon. J. Hoge Ricks, Rev. W. H. Stokes, Rev. J. W. Dixon, Rev. J Maybee, all of Richmond; . Aleen and Rev. A. B. Sharp, of Henrico. The post of secretary-treasurer, hitherto separate offices, was merged last night.

Rev. James Buchanan, of Richmond, and Mrs. Buchanan, addressed the conference during the morning session upon the topic of the scope and necessity of charity organization. Mr. Buchanan dealt thoroughly with the theme in an hour's speech, and maintained that the state is in a large measure responsible for the numbers of people dependent upon society for support.

During the afternoon, Dr. H. H. Hart, of the Russell Sage Foundation, and Dr. A. S. Priddy, of the State Epileptic Colony, discussed "Mental Deficiency." The latter gave an insight into the work accomplished at his institution.

NOT SAFE AT STAUNTON.

George W. Crosby to be Removed to Richmond Jail.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 30.—Clerk James E. Porter, of Louisa, held a conference with Governor Mann yesterday and explained the affair which terminated in Clyde McGhee of Louisa county, being killed by George Wise Crosby on Christmas Eve and of public feeling toward Crosby. After the conference Governor Mann issued an order to have Crosby brought from the Staunton jail to Richmond for safe keeping.

Crosby left Louisa county after the murder and was apprehended at Millboro, in Bath county, early in January. He was suffering from a bullet wound in his left lung, and was hastened to the Staunton Hospital. His condition is such now that he can be removed without jeopardy to his health. How Crosby received his wound is not known, but it is thought it was inflicted by McGee before he received his mortal wound in the difficulty they engaged in over a girl.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. [illegible] A simple wash. A combination of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

BAILEY UTTERS DIRE PROPHECY.

"Anarchy and a destruction of property similar to that which occurred in the French revolution will prevail in this country unless the present trend of politics is checked," declared former Senator Joseph W. Bailey, who made the principal address at the annual banquet of Group 1, Pennsylvania Bankers' Association in Philadelphia last night.

The former senator said that the present tendency is to teach the people to look to the government for support instead of teaching them to support the government. He deplored the extravagances of the national, state, and municipal governments.

"For years the presenece and power of the 'boss' deterred you from that participation in politics which every good citizen ought to take," declared Mr. Bailey, "and now that the 'boss' is disappearing the demagogue drives you from your proper place in the councils of your party and your state.

"Instead of permitting either the 'boss' or demagogue to drive you out of politics, it is your duty to drive them out of politics, and that would be easy enough if you take a proper interest in public affairs."

To The People of Alexandria, Va.:

The "Co-Operative Charities Association" at the meeting held this month decided to invite your attention to the work of the organization during the past year; also to ask for a liberal and general response in aid of the needy and helpless at present in our midst.

The winter of 1911-12 was very severe and many would have suffered, if you had failed to answer the calls the association then made. There were no cases of need reported to the members of the organization, which were overlooked or neglected, and effort was constantly made to obtain information of suffering or need in our city.

The "Co-Operative Charities Association" is just what its name implies. Women from the different churches are banded together to help wher help is needd, and at present as far as possible the imposition of the unworthy on the community.

Houses are visited and conditions and circumstances ascertained. In a number of instances children are found without clothing sufficient to keep them comfortable and without shoes.

Your help of last year brought comfort to many of these little people, and posibly prevented disease and death. The relief committee appointed by the association to take charge of the corporation appropriation for the poor has endeavored to dispense its funds with care and economy in order that the greatest number possible may be assisted.

In the work the police of the city have rendered valuable assistance, in localities where the members of the association would hesitate to go, without report of the conditions. The committe is not infallible, and if any of our citizens who know the u nworthy are receiving assistance, and will report fact in writin gover their signature, or in person to any member of the committee or association the case will be rectified at once; but without such reports the committee must act upon information already obtained.

The corporation funds will not do all that is necessary to be done, therefore the association appeals to you for a generou sand cheerful rsponse to our call for help for the needy that we may carry on our work through the winter season.

The association is grateful to the Nedlework Guild for the donation of clothing which it sent from year to year and which has ben so helpful in our work of relief.

Our appeal is before you.

"The poor ye have always," is a divine statement, and with it we may also read:

"He that hath pity upon the pobr lendeth unto the Lord."; and that which he hath given will He pay him again.

Contributions will be received by the following ladies:

Mrs. J. M. White, President.

Miss Virginia R. Brooke, Honaray President; Mrs. E. H. O'Brien, Treasurer, Mrs. James E. Alexander, secty.

Opposes Independence.

President Taft opposed independence for the Philippines and pleaded that the question be taken from politics, in what was probably his greatest speech on the subject, delivered last night in his closing address to the Ohio Society of Washington at Rauscher's, the occasion being the anniversary of President McKinley's birth.

"Is it possible," asked the President, "that the Democratic party is going to reverse the policy that has indicated itself by ten years' experience merely for the purpose of conforming to the cobwebbed planks of forgotten platforms? Will they not, before they take such an irretrievable step, obtain reliable information as to the conditions that obtain in the islands? This issue has been relegated to the limbo of free silver or the narrow doctrines of States' rights. Those who continue to give out their lucubrations on the Philippines [illegible] less than those who expect to attend the next inaugural ball."

Speaker Clark followed the President. He reiterated his convictions that the islands should be free.

Miss Katherine Hutton, of Sandy Springs Md., who has been the guest of Miss Nellie Uhler is now visiting Miss Eliza Douglas.

Miss Nellie Uhler is visiting Miss Jula Cone in Richmond.

Miss Christine Waggaman, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Miss Cora Jones.

Mrs William B. Smoot entertained in her usual cordial manner, yesterday afternoon at a beautifully appointed reception between the hours of five and seven at her residence in Prince street. The drawing rooms were a perfect bower of beauty and fragrance with cut flowers, ferns, and palms and profusions of cyclomen intermingled with carnations.

Mrs. Smoot received her guests in a becoming toilet of black and silver brocaded silk crepe with trimmings of soft white lace.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Smoot were her sisters, Mrs. William P. Robinson, and Mrs. Sallie C. Hopper, of Baltimore, who are the house guests of Mrs. Smoot. Mrs. Robinson was gowned in a creation of black and white lace draped over white. Mrs. Hopper, the third of the distinguished group of the three sisters, wore a black jet robe.

Assisting Mrs. Smoot and attractively gowned n evening toilets were Mrs. George Uhler, Mrs. George French, Mrs. Samuel Monroe, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Albert Smoot, jr., Mrs. John Foster, Miss Carrie Stribling, Mrs. Henry Robinson, of Washington, Miss Caroline Wise, Miss Nannie Norton, Miss Cora Smoot and Mrs. Louis Barley.

In the conservatory a bevy of pretty girls ushered the guests to the inviting punch bowl, graciously presided over by Miss Cora Cochran, and among the danitly arrayed young ladies were seen Miss Esther Green, Miss Esther Burke, Mss Emily Johnson, Miss Anna Barley, Miss Christina Kemper, and one of our late brides, Mr. Conrad Johnson.

The melodious strains of a well-tuned orchestra added to the festivity of the evening and the beautiful mass found here or pon cetta or "Flores de la Noche Buena"—flowers of the good night—bore their significance truly upon this occason.

As the guests wended their way on, ward, each nook seemed more enticing than the last and the dinng table with its magnificent centre-piece of gracefully nodding American beauties surrounded by the crimson bon bons and cakes, too pretty to eat, and at either end a swan of spun candy in a nest of scarlet ribbon-candy and the crimson shaded tapers made a picture that will long be with those forunate enough to have partaken of Mrs. Smoot's genial hosptality.

Pastor's Life Threatened.

Followig closely the letter threatening the life of Dr. Howard A. Kelly for his activities in the suppression of vice, Rev. Dr. John Roach Stratton, pastor of the Seventh Baptist Church, Baltimore, Md., has received a postal threatening the lives of himself and family. This is not the first threats, Dr. Stratton has received, btu it is the first which mentions his wife and children.

The threat was written on a postal card, which was decorated with a skull and crossbones and signed by the "Black Hand Co., Inc." Following is the text:

"Sir: Your place is in Hell and Will blow you and your family and your automobile in Hell and we will make hot for your family."

Says He Came From Heaven.

The annual national hobo convention was opened in New Orleans yesterday and the first session devoted almost entirely to speeches of denunciatoryn of present day conditions generally.

This was brought to a sudden halt and the rather noisy hall silenced during the afternoon by the appearance of "Jesus Wesley, who said he was a member of the "Brotherhood of Christ," and that he came from Heaven. He was garbed in long flowing robes of white and his hair dangled over his shoulders. The delegates were visibly uneasy, but invited Wesley to speak. His address was devoted chiefly to an invitation to join his brotherhood.

President Jeffi Davis issued a "proclamation" in which he said local news papers did not stop ridiculing the convention he would rule present representatives from the convention.

Davis and H. H. Woodward, national organizer, gave out a statement in which they denounced the alleged attempt of James Eads How, the St. Louis hobo leader, "to conduct the affairs of the association in a manner that would place the organization before the public as one upholding socialism and opposed to the Catholic religion."

Guarded by His Dog.

Daniel B. Martin, aged 67 years, a retired merchant of Charman, Md., who had been missing from his home since Tuesday, was found yesterday by Norman Harbaugh at the point of death, along a path in the mountains near Buena Vista Station. He died without regaining consciousness. Dr. J. F. Beck, of Highland, who made an examination, stated that Martin died of exposure. When found he was lying in four inches of snow, his dog which had been his constant companion, standing guard over his unconscious body. Even after Martin died the dog refused to leave his master.

Blease Interviewed.

In an interview Governor Blease discussed with a corespondent of his attitude on a number of issues before the people of South Carolina and touched on some personal matters.

He declared that while he opposed the nomination of Wilson, he is ready to help him make his administration a success.

He urges the people of his state to refuse to sell land to negroes, and says the holding of land by negroes is going to be a serious problem not only in South Carolina but throughout the South.

He declares that he would like to have an opportunity of voting in the United States Senate for the repeal of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Federal Constitution.

Senator Tillman, he declares, is an old man in his dotage and that he has done more for him than any man living today. He says he saved the Senator's life on one occasion and on another saved his family name from being written on the pages of the South Carolina penitentiary records.

Strike of Porcelain Workers.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 30.—Joseph Chankquois, a porcelain worker striker was arrested late last night charged with attempting to blow up the plant of the Trenton Porcelain Works. A strike of 1,000 porcelain workers was declared yesterday with a demand for higher wages and shorter hours. Last night there was an explosion in the basement of the porcelain works and investigation disclosed a dynamite bomb planted among the clay. But for the fact that the clay room was partly filled with damp clay which affected the explosive the police say serious damage woul d have been done. Three men and eight women were at work when the explosion occurred. Chankquois when arrested had a revolver and bullets in his pocket.

Truth is simple, requiring neither study nor art. Reputation is not made, though sometimes it may be lost, in a day. Nearly forty years of business experience has proven to John A. Marshall & Bro., that it is healthful to tell the truth. Their success in the shoe business is due to their straightforwardness in business and in strictly clinging to an honest opinion about the goods they sell.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"Hands off all the Turkish possessions in Asia" was Germany's pointed notification in Constantinople yesterday to every one concerned. It was given by the German Ambassador to Turkey in the course of a speech at the Teutonic Club's annual dinner in honor of Emperor William's birthday. "The future of Turkey lies in Asia Minor," Baron Hans von Wangenheim told an enthusiastic gathering of hs compatriots. He continued: The German interests in Asia Minor are very great and are bound up with those of Turkey. The recent note of the European powers promised that Turkey would be added in her future development. Germany will lend powerful assistance in this cause. "In any case, however, to all the Turkish possessions in Asia Germany will attach the label, "Touch me not."

For the first time in Tennessee the "unwritten law" was used as a means of defense in the trial of Mrs. J. C. Barnes, on trial at Cookeville for the murder of Mrs. Della Judd. Mrs. Judd was slain on a train last May at Buffalo Valley. The killing was alleged to be caused by jealousy. Mr. Barnes ,according to the testimony of the wife was taking a trip with Mrs. Judd.

Bya vote of 31 to 153, with an exceptionally large number of members voting, the House yesterday adopted the recommendations of the Lincoln Memorial Commission calling for the emplacement of a $2,000,000 memorial structure enclosing a huge statue of Abraham Lincoln at the extreme west end of the Mall in Washington.

Engineers in charge of the work at the crevasse at Beulah, Miss., admit the flood situation is grave. No doubt remains that the flood will reach the disastrous proportions attained by the overflow of 1912. Engineers fear but little can be done to check the overflow. Destitution and suffering are rampant on all sides. The water in this district is now ten feet deep. The gauge shows forty feet with water still rising .

The present state of affairs between Russia, Austria, are egarded as delicate in the extreme. The war party is now in the saddle in Austria, and Russia has 1,600,000 men serving with the colors. The trouble is all about plained by a high diplomatic official Russia has recognized in an agreement with Austria that the Turkish forts of Scutari and Janina belong to the future Albania nation. The condition is to be imposed, however, that the military and economic interests adjacent of the Montenegrin and Greek population be suitably guaranteed. Russia, on the other hand, the diplomat declared, regards Prisrend, Jakosa, and Ipek as belonging to Servia. The seriousness of the situation arises from the fact that Austria by her success in this respect may be encouraged to make further demands.

Morris H. Beall, a lawyer, sat on the window sill of his office in New York yesterday afternoon, glanced out side and down 18 stories to the roof of the skyscraper boilerhouse. A moment later he was swaying uncertainly on his narow seat. Then he somersaulted down and lay crumpled up a dozen steps from a young woman at a telphone switchboard near a window. The girl calmly called up police headquarters and told them of the tragedy. Beall was dead when picked up.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The time is not far distant when Congrenn will pass a bill to construct a memorial bridge across the Potomac river. Representative Carlin has two bills pending in the House for this purpose and they received a great impetus yesterday when the House of Representatives enacted into law the measure to construct a memorial to Abraham Lincoln in the Mall. Representative James R. Mann, of Illinois, the minority leader, voiced the sentiments of a good many members of Congress, when, in support of the Lincoln Memorial, he said on the floor yesterday:

"I would erect a memorial to Abraham Lincoln on the farther side of the Washington Monument, just this side of the Potomac river, across the river from the home of Robert E. Lee and the burial place of both Union and Confederate soldiers, nad then I would erect a memorial bridge across the Potomac river, joining the then Confederate States with the Union, aye, Mr. Speaker, joining the memory of Abraham Lincoln with the memories and respect for Lee, Aye, Mr. Speaker, I would go further. In the course of years not far distant, I would construct a roadway from Washington to Mount Vernon, from Mount Vernon to Richmond and at the other end of that roadway have the government of the United States construct a memorial to Jefferson Davis, the President of the Confederate States.

"When we have done this we have shown to the world that the hearts of all Americans beat in the present as in the past with respect and love for their leaders on both sides. We can afford to forget the animosities and the passions in the peace that passeth all understanding."

Mr. Mann is a power in the House of Representatives and now that he has expressed himself on the Memorial Bridge proposition, Representative Carlin will be materially aided in his efforts to have the House pass the bill which he has introduced for this purpose. Representative Adamson, chairman of the committee before which Mr. Carlin's bill is pending, will be asked to take action on this measure in the very near future. His attention will be called to Mr. Mann's speech of yesterday.

Senater Martin has introduced an amendment in the Senate to appropriate the sum of $60,000 for the purchase of not less than 600 acres of ground, convenient to the city of for it target practice purposes. Although it is not stated in Mr. Martin's amendment, which he will offer to the military appropriation bill when it comes up for consideration in the Senate, it is presumed that the land to be purchased is located in Virginia, possibly Edsall, near Alexandria.

Senator Martin has introduced a bill in the Senate to pay a pension to Geo. W. Brown at the rate of $30 per month. The senior Senator from Virginia has also introduced a pension bill to pay to Joseph H. Mayo, late of the United States navy, at the rate of $30 per month.

The single six-year term for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States was the issue before the Senate today. The Works resolution to tha effect, calling for amendment of the federal constituion, was expected to be voted on before adjournment.

The King Lumber Company, of Charlottesville, Virginia, got the contract today for the erection of a large extension to the Postoffice building at Guthrie, Oklahoma. The price was $114,050

There were 132,530 children in charitable institutions at the close of 1912, an increase of 100,000 over 1904, according to a report issued today by the Census Bureau. In all benevolent institutions for both adults and children, numbering 5,397 there were 4,417,997 either temporarily or permanently. In one year 83,000 children were received into institutions and placed in homes.

Warrants Issued.

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 30. — Federal Judge E. R. Meek today mailed to New York warrants for the arrest of thre Standard Oil officials.

To his comment regarding Attorney-Geheral Wickersham's action in not ordering the arrest of the three men on warrants from his court, Judge Meeks added an explation to his criticism saying that he did not believe Wickersham fully understood the nature of the case.

The three men charged with violating the Sherman Anti-trust law in Texas, are John D. Archbold, H. C. Fogler, Jr., and W. C. Teagle.

Princeton, N. J.—To pay their expenses through college, three Princeton students are conducting a shoe shine stand on the campus.

TO BE IN PARADE.

Fifteen Members of Governor's Staff Expected to Participate in Inauguration.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 30.—Although there will probably be as many members of the Virginia state troops in the inauguration parade as was expected some time ago, there will be one special feature which will stand out conspicuously and please Old Dominion people who come to see the new president take the oath of office. There will be a big turnout of members of Governor Mann's staff. Being mounted, and all being counted good looking men, the best in the Old Dominion, they will undoubtedly attract much attention as they ride proudly up Pennsylvania Avenue to the inspiring strains of martial airs.

Colonel E. A. Halsey, a member of the staff, who has been much interested in seeing that as many of his colleagues as possible attend the inauguration, says:

"Fifteen members of Governor William Hodges Mann's staff will take part in the inaugural ceremonies inducting President-elect Woodrow Wilson into office."

REJECTED SUITOR A SUICIDE.

W. Bernard George Shoots Himself at Norfolk, Va.

Norfouk, Va., Jan. 30.—W. Bernard George, 25 years old, formerly deputy high constable of Portsmouth, committed suicide on the sidewalk yesterday near the home of Miss Helen Drummond, after Miss Drumond had positively refused to accept his attentions and told him she is to marry next Saturday.

George had been an attentive suitor in spite of Miss Drummond's refusal to accept him. He called at her home every two or thre days and repeated his appeals, but she was unresponsive. When she told him yesterday afternoon that she is to be married on Saturday he pulled out a revolver and declared his intention of killing her, but at that moment her brother stepped into the house.

Miss Drummond grabbed George's hand when he drew the revolver, but he did not attempt to use it. Leaving the house he walked around the corner and shot himself in the temple.

FOX HOUNDS FOR PARADE.

Virginia Dogs To Have Sction in Inaugural March.

Finely bred, and specially trained and keen-nosed fox hounds are going to have a section all their own in the Wilson inaugural parade.

Dr. Lester Jones, of Culpeper, Va., is gathering together the finest pack of fox hounds in the world and will place them ahead of the mounted band which will escort the hunt club riders in the civic section of the parade. This unique feature of an inaugural parade is receiving no end of attention in the State of Virginia.

Dr. Jones has informed the inaugural committee that the fox hounds he will select will be of such fine training that they will stay "put" and not "break and scatter" al lover the line of march. A competent master of hounds will be the grand marshal of the canine army.

NO OPERATION FOR HIM.

Patient Jumps Out of Bed, Goes Home and is Apparently Well.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 30.—Instead of lying in a hospital ward Tuesday morning with nurses tenderly ministering to him, Ernest Carpenter, aged 37, a boilermaker, employed in the shipyard here, is walking about the town of Hampton apparently in good health. On Monday night Carpenter was hastily taken to the Dixie Hospital after two physicians had declared he was critically ill with appendicitis. Preparations were made to operate on him at midnight as the last resort to have sis life. When told by the nurse she was preparing him for an operation, Carpenter got out of the window and walked to his home, where he slept well and arose at his usual time next morning.

Movement to Ransom.

New York, Jan. 30.—Prominent Masons today discussed the advisability of starting a movement to ransom one of the most treasured pieces of plate owned by the late President McKinley; a solid 14-karat gold tablet inviting him to a state assembly of California commandery No. 1, Knight Templar. It is now held by a Broadway pawn broker and until today was displayed in his window in a conglomerate setting of odds and ends of jewelry.

The pawn broker demands $1,000 for the relic. It came into his posession from Dr. Hermanus F. B. Baer, of Mount Vernon, husband of McKinley's niece, formerly Mabel McKinley, a singer. Baer says he pawned the tablet for $700 during an epidemic of burglaries near where he lives, fearing it would be stolen.
